

Almira Fawn Biography

On any given day,

Almira Fawn can be found going to school, taking care of her pet animals, eating her favorite chocolate or playing soccer. Almira loves to catch and study wild animals and is a certified scuba diver.

However....

Almira Fawn is not your ordinary 12 year old girl.

Almira is an extremely talented singer, musician and songwriter who has performed at countless venues, and won several talent shows. Some of the other interesting things she has done or is involved with over the years is teach guitar to classrooms and individuals, been a judge at a talent show, and work as a motivational speaker.

Almira Fawn writes in various styles of music from blues to rock, country, folk, bluegrass, etc. When you are as young as Almira you would find it difficult to find anyone to take you seriously or want to play with you. So she learned to play several instruments and use a looper to instantly capture any sound she produces and then play it back. This enabled her to play all the instruments at once for that full band sound she desired. Almira performs a complex show with musical instruments and likes to add a little comedy and banter with the audience.

Almira has been interviewed by several media including Nick Lawrence's, 'Curtains @ 8' on WUKY radio (KY), WUIN the Penguin by Beau Gunn (NC), and WBNE The Bone by Vaughn (NC).
